

Computing Educators Oral History Project

Tracy Camp* video snippet transcript

Recorded Tuesday, May 29, 2007

Available both via the ceohp.org website and on CEOHP's YouTube channel
<http://www.youtube.com/user/CEOHP#p/u/20/GFIjU5xBmxE>

Copyright Statement

This video transcript is being made available for research purposes only. All literary rights in the transcript, including the right to publish, are reserved to the Computing Educators Oral History Project. No part of the transcript may be quoted for publication, except by the interviewee, without the written permission of the Director of the Computing Educators Oral History Project.

Request for permission to quote for publication should be addressed to Barbara Boucher Owens, either by email at ceohp@ceohp.org or via postal mail at Computing Educators Oral History Project, Southwestern University, P.O. Box 770, Georgetown, TX 78627-0770 USA. The request should identify the specific passages to be quoted, describe the anticipated use of the passages, and identify the requestor.

We recommend that this video transcript be cited as follows:

Tracy Camp, "The importance of family," a video interview from 2007, Computing Educators Oral History Project. Online: ceohp.org.

Family as the best part of life

Thank you Barbara, for interviewing me for your oral history project. This is my lovely daughter, Emma. She's — how old are you? She's almost four. Or are you almost seven?

[Emma: Almost four!]

Almost four. And we've talked in our oral history project about my career and where I've gone from when I was about Emma's age all the way up to where I am in my job today. But we didn't talk too much about my family. I have a little girl named Emma and a son named Max who is seven, so he's currently at school. And definitely, definitely the best part of my life.